VOWS IN THE VALLEY

DEHRADUN UTTARAKHAND

Set against the foothills of the Himalayas, Dehradun carries a quiet charm shaped by scenic valleys, colonial-era landmarks, forested escapes, and spiritual trails. From its iconic clock tower and bustling local streets to nearby caves, temples, waterfalls, and mountain viewpoints, the city unfolds with a gentle rhythm — offering travellers a refreshing blend of nature, heritage, and everyday hill-town warmth.

JÜSTA NATURE'S NEST RESORT, DEHRADUN

Nestled amidst the tranquil landscapes of the Doon Valley, jüSTa Nature's Nest Resort, Dehradun is a serene countryside retreat surrounded by lush greenery and open skies. Located in Mazri Grant, close to Rishikesh and Jolly Grant Airport, this peaceful resort offers a refreshing escape from city life while keeping you connected to Uttarakhand's most loved destinations.

RAJAJI NATIONAL PARK

One of the finest wildlife reserves in the Shivalik belt, Rajaji rewards early mornings and a little patience. The dense sal forests shelter elephants, leopards, spotted deer, and a remarkable variety of birdlife. A guided jeep safari through the Chilla or Motichur ranges is genuinely memorable, the forest closes in on all sides, and the quiet, when it settles, is absolute.

TAPKESHWAR MAHADEV TEMPLE

This ancient cave temple is one of Dehradun's most quietly sacred places. Water drips naturally from the cave ceiling onto the Shivalinga below a simple, elemental act of devotion that has drawn pilgrims here for centuries. The walk down through the trees only adds to the sense of arrival.

ROBBERS CAVE (GUCHHUPANI)

A natural limestone carved by a stream that disappears underground and resurfaces, cool and clear, further along the channel. Walking through the shallow water with rock walls rising on either side and forest canopy above is a pleasantly unusual experience. The local legend of outlaws taking shelter here adds a little narrative colour to what is already a genuinely interesting place.

BUDDHA TEMPLE

The Mindrolling Monastery is among the largest Buddhist centres in the world, its gilded stupa rising with quiet authority against the backdrop of the Doon valley. The interiors are richly painted, the grounds immaculately kept, and the atmosphere even on a busy afternoon carries a distinct and unhurried calm. An hour here does the spirit considerable good.

SAHASTRADHARA

The name translates, fittingly, as the Thousandfold Spring and the place earns it. Sulphurous mineral water trickles in countless thin streams over limestone formations, collecting in shallow natural pools set against wooded hills. It is a restorative spot, equal parts scenic and restful, with the added draw of a ropeway that offers wide views across the valley.

SHIKHAR WATERFALL

A forest drive and a short walk bring you to one of the more quietly beautiful natural spots around Dehradun. The waterfall descends through dense green cover, the air noticeably cooler and fresher the closer you get. Because it sits slightly off the main tourist circuit, you are likely to find it peaceful which, on a clear day, makes it well worth the journey.

DEHRADUN ZOO (MALSI DEER PARK)

Set at the foot of the Shivalik hills, this well-maintained wildlife park is home to deer, leopards, tigers, and a variety of birds in naturalistic enclosures. The forested setting makes it far more pleasant than most urban zoos, and the drive through the surrounding hillside is attractive in its own right. A relaxed, unhurried visit of two to three hours is ideal.

MALL OF DEHRADUN

When the mountains have been thoroughly explored and an evening of air-conditioned ease calls, the Mall of Dehradun delivers well. A reliable selection of dining options, retail brands, and a multiplex cinema sit together in a comfortable modern space. It is not the reason you came to Dehradun, but on the right evening, it is exactly what you need.
