UDAIPUR RAJASTHAN

Udaipur, also known as the City of Lakes, is one of the most visited tourist places in Rajasthan. Located around stunning lakes and enveloped by the Aravalli Hills in all directions, Udaipur is known for its azure lakes, magnificent palaces, vibrant culture and delectable food.

Along with being a must-visit destination, it is also one of the best places to experience luxury in India. Lake Pichola, Jaisamand Lake, City Palace, Monsoon Palace, Jagmandir, Fateh Sagar Lake, Jagdish Temple and Saheliyon ki Bari are some of the popular tourist places in Udaipur. The city was founded in 1559 by Maharana Udai Singh II as the new capital of the Mewar kingdom. The grandeur of the Rajput era is still prevalent in the city's architecture. A trip to Udaipur is often combined with a visit to nearby Kumbhalgarh (80km) and Mount Abu. The revered Nathdwara temple is about 60 km from Udaipur.

SIGNATURE EXPERIENCES

THE ROYAL ARRIVAL EXPERIENCE

From the moment your car arrives, it feels like a small ceremony. A traditional porter greets you with an umbrella, a graceful aarti marks an auspicious beginning, and a drop of attar is offered on your palm as rose petals fall around you. Warm, elegant, and unmistakably Rajasthani.

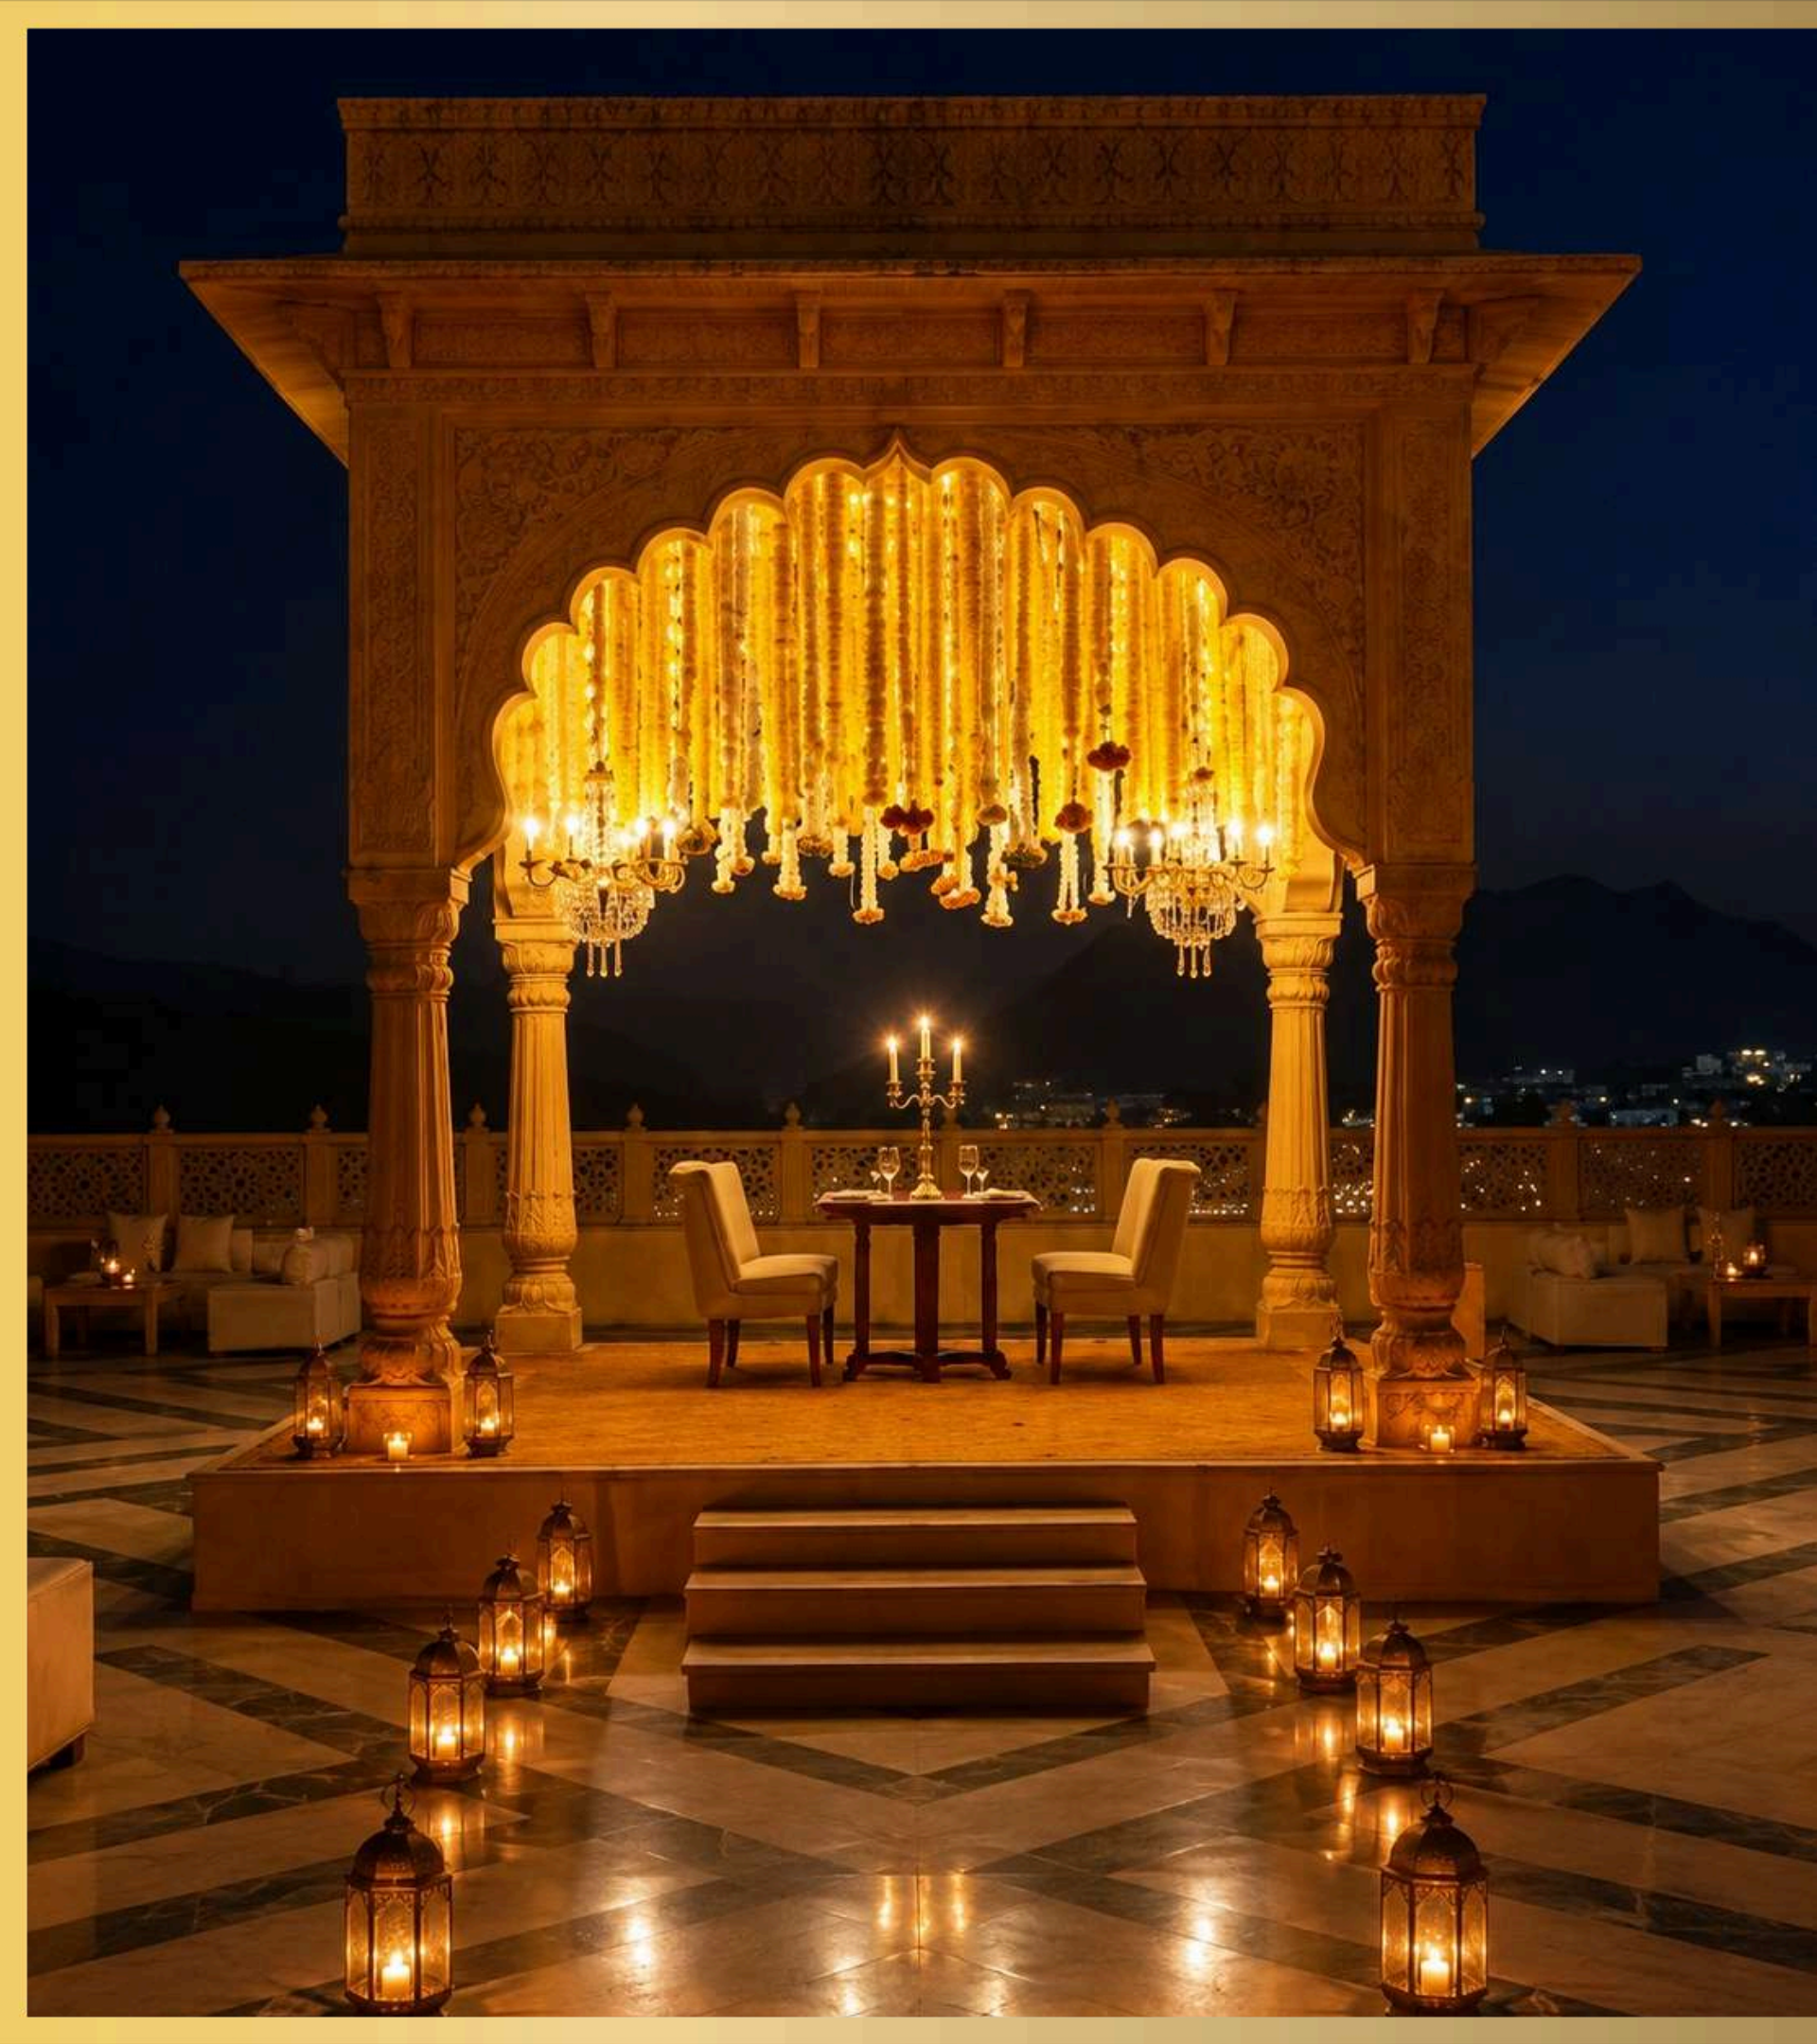

What makes it special: Rooted in tradition / Refined, not theatrical / A personal escort into your stay

SIGNATURE HI-TEA THE TERRACE EXPERIENCE

Set on the terrace with Monsoon Palace and Lake Pichola in view, this hi-tea turns an ordinary afternoon into something memorable. Elegant service, golden hour light, and a live Rajasthani folk singer weave through the experience, with guests welcome to clap along or request a song.

Served: Golden hour and sunset windows

A photograph of a private candlelight dinner setup on a palace terrace at night. The scene is illuminated by warm, golden light from a large, ornate chandelier hanging from a carved stone archway. Below the archway, a small round table is set with two chairs, lit by a candelabra. The terrace floor is checkered, and several lanterns are placed around the base of the archway and on the floor. In the background, a cityscape and mountains are visible under a dark sky.

PRIVATE CANDLELIGHT DINNER

For an evening apart from the main dining spaces, we lay a private table lit by candlelight, set against the palace and lake. Intimate and unhurried - just the two of you, the view, and a menu crafted for the occasion.
